6. Guidelines regarding “Words of Remembrance”

- A. The Order of Christian Funerals provides for the possibility of “a member or a friend of the family speak in remembrance of the deceased before the final commendation begins.” [no.197]
- B. As with the homily, these “words of remembrance” are not to constitute a eulogy as such. Rather, they are to express appreciation for the life of the deceased, or take the form of a prayer or other inspirational text.
- C. Only one family member or friend is to speak, and he or she is to be brief, speaking no more than three minutes.
- D. Because of the intensity of the emotions at the time of a Funeral, it is suggested that the “words of remembrance” be consigned to writing. To ensure that these words are in harmony with the celebration, the text should be given to the priest celebrant in advance of the Funeral liturgy, so that he can make any suitable suggestions to help the “words of remembrance” convey the consolation of God’s love, grace, and mercy. These words, then, are intended to particularize the praise and gratitude to God for His gifts to the deceased, especially in the gift of the Christian life.

At St. John Cantius Parish-If there are to be words of Remembrance we ask that they take place before the funeral liturgy begins either at the end of the Viewing at the Funeral Home or at Church.

_____ Yes, there will be Words of Remembrance. It will be given by _____

_____ No, there will be no Words of Remembrance.
